KEENE-HILDRETH STRUGGLE TO BE RESUMED AT THE SPA.

Their Best Horses Have Rich Stake En-Sweep or Grasmere Keene Can Lead.

"The struggle between James R. Keene and S. C. Hildreth for leading honors in stake winnings will be resumed at Saratoga next When the recent meeting at Sheepsfead Bay closed Hildreth led with a total of 82,570, the Keene winnings amounting to Hildreth's best money getters were fadden, $40,420; Fitz Herbert, $25,575, and King James, $7,725, while Keene's were Hilarious, $31,219; Maskette, $14,765, and Sweep, $13,708. Joe Madden won the Beltakes, worth $24,650, also the Brookyn Derby, $9,425, and the Brookdale Handiaddition to being placed in other events. Fitz Herbert was victorious in the ocantico, Broadway, Advance, Coney land Jockey Club, Suburban and Realization, while King James captured the Metro- game. politan and the Brooklyn. Hilarious won the Withers, $11,074; the Carlton, $4,815, and the Withers, $11,074; the Carlton, $4,815, and the Tidal, $15,000, and ran second in the Advance. Maskette was easily successful in the Ladies, Gazelle and Mermaid stakes, while Sweep won the National Stallion Stakes, $12,783; two overnight events, and was third to Hidreth's Dalmatian and Mrs. Livingston's Lovetle in the Great Trial.

The rival stables have been resting at Baratoga during the session at Yonkers, the horses being in fine trim now for the coming duel. Mr., Keene's much talked of two-year-old Grasmere may start for the first lime in the Flash Stakes next Monday, Hidreth's Meddler coit Sporting Life is eligible for this event, too, but among the possible starters are the unbeaten Waldo and such clever youngsters as Elfin Beau, Amelia, Janka, Neon, Shangon and Scaruja. the Ladies, Gazelle and Mermaid stakes, while Sweep won the National Stallion Stakes, $12,783: two overnight events, and was third to Hildreth's Dalmatian and Mrs. Livingston's Lovetle in the Great Trial.

The rival stables have been resting at Swretoga during the session at Konkers, the horses being in fine trim now for the coming duel. Mr. Keene's much talked of two-year-old Grasmere may start for the first time in the Flash Stakes next Monday. Hidreth's Meddler colt Sporting Life is eligible for this event, too, but among the possible starters are the unbeaten Waldo and such clever youngsters as Elfin Beau, Amelia Jenks, Noon, Shannon and Scarpia. Hildreth intends to start King James and Restigouche in the $5,000 Saratoga Handicap the same day, while the Keene eligibles are Celt and Hilarious. But something may be heard from Maltble, Affred Noble, Fashion Plate or King's Daughter.

Allred Noble, Fashion Plate or King's Daughter.

"Woodford Clay is confident that he can win the $10,000 Spinsway Stakes, for two-year-old fillies, with Ocean Bound, the best of her age seen so far this season, although the eligible list includes many fillies that are highly regarded. Neither Hildreth nor Reene has a representative in the Mohawk, for three-year-olds, but Maskette is expected to win the $5,000 Alabama Stakes for the Jockey Club's vice-chair man, as he has nothing to beat. Mr. Keene will probably start both Sweep and Grasmere in the $5,000 Saratoga Special, but they will meet a formidable lot of two-year-olds in Ocean Bound, Waldo, Democrat, Lovetie, Amelia Jenks, Newmarket, Noon, Shannon and others. Hildreth did not take a subscription in this event.

11st books as if the Delaware Handicap might be won by either Keene or Hildreth, as the former can start Maskette, while the latter can send King James, Joe Madden, Kitz, Herbert, Ressignuche or Montgomery to the post. But the chances are that none of these horses will start, which will leave the race a decidedly open event. For the 7,500 Travers Stakes, for three-year-olds, Midgreth with doubtless start Joe Madden or Fayette, while the Keene colors will be carried by Hilarious, who has beaten both if the Hildreth horses this season and is expected to repeat, the distance being a mile and a quarter. Sweep and Grasmere are the Keene eligibles for the $30,000 Hopeful Stakes, and if one of them wins bildreth's lead may be overcome. But the Keene colts will have Ocean Bound, Shannon and the best colts owned by Madden and Sanford to beat.

Celt and Maskette can represent Keene in the Merchants and Citizens Handicap, while Hildreth can rely on King James, Fitz Herbert, Joe Madden and Restigouche. The Great Filly Stakes, for two-year-old fillies, to be run at the Bay on September 8, will be worth $7,500 to the winner. The distance is six furlongs straightaway, and the most notable eligibles are J. A. Bennet's Schoolmarm, F. A. Forsythe's Indian Maid and Odd Rose, J. E. Madden's Sticker, Marigot and Hollybush, the Montpelier Stable's Projectile, George Odom's Follie Levy and H. P. Whitney's Greenvale, Rumpes and Littoral. Compared with the fields in former years these fillies are a poor lot considering the value of the stakes.

If Jeffries comes to time with a forfeit to-morrow to bind a match with Johnson sporting men will not be satisfied unless there is further evidence of good faith on the part of the beilermaker and his manager. If Jeffries is sincere in his desire to settle the question of supremacy with the negro he will sign articles for a forty-five round bout or a finish fight for the largest purse offered and a $10,000 side bet. He can draw up the articles himself, naming the date for the mill and the opening of bids from promoters, also the time for putting up the entire amount of the purse and side wagers in the chands of a responsible stakeholder to be mutually agreed upon. Such a proposition could hardly be turned down by Johnson, although the latter might have reason to quibble over the amount of the side bet and the division of the purse. According to men of experience in suchimatters Jeffries by taking this stand would put the match equarely up to Johnson and the promoters who might be willing to bid for the mill. In maming December as the time for the battle Jeffries, it is believed, would not be considered unreasonable, for if he ever fifts his friends want to see him in the pink of condition. But if Jeffries demands an unheard of guarantee regardless of Johnson's hare of the spoils sporting men declare that it will be conclusive evidence that the Californian does not want to fight again.

If Jeff means business, "said a manager of fighters yesterday," he will be fair in the conditions he names. He has been expressing a willingness to fight Johnson some time of fighters each of the test but if they are not it is fust as easy to put up hurdles. A forfeit means nothing. Let Jeffries sign reasonable articles of agreement and the sporting world will applaud him. Coffroth will a the history of the ring. If Jeff demands 110,0000, win, lose or draw, you can bet that his or the conditions with the black champion!"

Bob Fitzsimmons says that Ketchel at firekled one declares that Ketchel is too small and will not be able to reach the egro's head. Fitz may be right in his contention, but there are many good judges of puglism who do not believe that Johnson can withstand Ketchel's terrific body punches. They insist that Ketchel does not have to pay attention to Johnson's head and that the stomach, heart, ribs and kidneys are the best objects for his attack. Joe Walcott, 5 feet 1½ inches tall, beat men taller and heavier by means of body punches. He had the punch and among his victims was the elever heavyweight Joe Choynski. If Ketchel is right when he fackles Johnson he may prove that Fitz's argument is wrong. But Ketchel will not have a chance to beat Johnson or even Papke unless he begins to mend his ways.

Papke unless he begins to mend his ways.

Politics appears to have put the Philadelphia National League Club in dire straits. The club is partly owned by several of Pennsylvania's leading politicians, while the $50,000 block of stock held by the deposed manager, William J. Murray, is said to be the property of Robert Davis, the Pennocratic leader of Hudson county, who is also the reputed owner of the Jersey City club. Murray made the Philadelphia team a winner last year, but ever since politics began to cut a figure in the affairs of the fub he says his hands have been tied. Meanwhile the Philadelphia Athletics by their fine play have firmly established American League sentiment in the Quaker City. It is the general opinion that Donlin if he takes the management will have his hands full in attempting to recover the Philadelphia club's lost ground.

to this and weak armed throwing by Clement, Burch and Lumley the Phillies got such a commanding lead that the spectators had little to enthuse over after the initial inning except to cheer Magee every time he came to the bat.

Seven men faced Wilhelm in the opening inning and four counted at the plate. Grant opened by walking, going to second on Bates's sacrifice and scoring on litus's double to right. Magee then sent John home with a single to right and then stole second. Bransfield walked. Ward hit to Hummel, who tossed Kitty out at second, but McMillan, trying for a double play, threw up against the grand stand, Magee scoring and Ward reaching second. Doolan singled to right, bringing in Ward. Mike was nailed stealing. Wards single brought one over in the fourth. Grant tripled in the fifth and scored on Titus's single brought one over in the fourth. Grant tripled in the fifth and scored on Titus's single, while the other tally was chalked up in the sixth when Bransfield walloped to centre for a base, took second on Ward's sacrifice and scored on a hit by Doolan to right.

Brooklyn had chances to do something big in the third but only one run came. Bergen started by walking. Wilhelm singled to centre and Burch to left, filling up the bases. Clement forced Burch at second. Bergen scoring. McElveen was tossed out at first, but Jordan walked, again filling the sacks. It was up to Manager Lumley then, but his best effort was a poke to Doolan, who caught Clement going to third. In the fifth Wilhelm singled as a starter. Burch made as fine a single to right at any player could wish to do, but Wilhelm loafed in going to second, with the result that Titus threw him out, robbing Burch of a hit. Clement then forced Burch at second. McElveen punched a double to deep right, scoring Clement. Jordan ended the Dodgers' scoring of the day with a fly to Ward.

he won the 2:11 trotting stake, the feature of the opening day of the Grand Circuit. The field was as brilliant as has ever started in the event and the game little trotter lowered his record to 2:07%. Country Jay trotted every one of the four miles below 2:30 and at the finish, while still going a bit lame, seemed really the freshest of his field.

The talent made Lady Elgin an odds on favorite in the 2:18 pace on account of her 2:08% mile at Terre Haute, but she could not beat 2:10 to-day, and Walter Cox with a big roan hobbier named Cecilian King took the race in straight heats.

Major Mallow and The Harvester were easily the class of their events, both winning without trouble, though Johnny Dickerson and Beatrice Bellini might have made trouble for the Geers trotter had the handsome black mare been able to keep her feet and trot the mile out.
